

A FAMILY EVENT

HARVARD MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

FREE WITH MUSEUM ADMISSION • 26 OXFORD STREET • FREE EVENT PARKING

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1:00–4:00 PM

Presented in collaboration with the Mineralogical & Geological Museum at Harvard University, the Boston Mineral Club, and NOVA, produced for PBS by WGBH Boston

new england ROCKS!

Fossils Millions of Years Old

Examine authentic New England fossils older than dinosaurs

Science Can Dance!

Explore geology through creative movement and dance choreography with scientists from Gique

Explore Sand

Investigate with magnets, magnifiers, and microscopes to see differences in sand from around New England

Making North America video clips

View highlights from the new NOVA series airing now on PBS

Bring a Mystery Mineral

Want to know more about a mineral from your collection? Ask the experts of the Boston Mineral Club!

Curator's Corner

Meet Dr. Raquel Alonso-Perez, curator of Harvard's Mineralogical & Geological Museum, to view some of her favorite "behind-the-scenes" minerals (1:00–3:00 pm)